Publisher's Trial Date - February 16

La Laguna Revue publisher, Roger L. Mayhall, who was arraigned in Federal Court in Los Angeles on Monday, November 23, on a charge of counterfeiting possession of counterfeit plates and possession of counterfeit bills, all with the intent to pass and sell, will appear in Chief Judge Mathis' court on February 16th.

The trial originally scheduled for January 11, was postponed until the new date. Mayhall was arrested by agents of the Secret Service on June 10 and approximately 4,500 counterfeit $20 bills were taken at that time.

Roger's arrest followed the apprehension of three men in Florida, one, Barry Ross Lloyd, a former employee of the Mayhall Print Shop, who said he had printed the money while working at an Elsinore shop, according to authorities.

The Secret Service agents saw fit to take the Davidson Press and Robertson camera from the print shop, saying that they were two of the pieces of equipment used for counterfeiting.

To say the least, the loss of a press and camera has made printing and production difficult, not impossible, but difficult.

Readers have wondered about La Laguna Revue, and its being published. Be assured, the Revue will be at your doorstep each and very month. We have been later than usual on one or two issues, but this was due to the inconvenience of not having the Davidson Press. Both the presses were used during Revue week.

Recall Election Voted Down

A three to two vote by the members of the Elsinore City Council resulted in the vetoing of a petition to recall Mayor Thomas C. Bartlett and Councilman Hilbert Stewart.

The petition was presented to the council at the November 23 meeting, and at that time a question arose as to the legality of two alleged recall petitions and the matter was referred to City Attorney Dougherty.

At a recent meeting, Dougherty read his opinion from a nine page report, wherein he pointed out several instances that petition procedure apparently had not followed strictly the law governing such recall action. Also that the addresses and dates were not all completed by the signers of the petitions, but by a second party. This was not a major factor, though.

Another error in obtaining the signatures, according to his statement, was that one of the petitions for the recall of Stewart, had affixed to it the notice, statement and answer pertaining to Bartlett.

Dougherty's concluding statement was that, "it is my opinion, that the petitions for the recall of Thomas C. Bartlett and Hilbert H. Stewart are insufficient to authorize the City Council to set a time for an election".

The members of the City Council then took the ball and a motion made whether to set an election date for recall or not. It went down, three to two.

School Bonds Pass In Elsinore

The residents of the Elsinore Union High School board of trustees finally, after the fifth time around, paid off in full on January 26, when over 1400 registered voters went to the polls and voted in favor of the four million bond and state loan measures to build a new high school.

The two million in bonds tally was 1,789 persons voting yes, and 606 voting no, giving a 75% favorable vote. On the two million state loan, 1,793 voted yes and 612, no, or 74.5% margin.

EYE-CATCHING IDEA AT THE DONUT TREE

During the holidays we walked into the Donut Tree on Railroad Avenue in Elsinore and on the wall above the tasty rack was filled with donuts we saw one of the cutest decorations ever.

Replicas of Santa Clauses, happy and sad faced, holding colorfully decorated donuts on a "donut tree".

The owners and operators of this establishment Marion and Lee Carson said that almost every month they change the display, for instance, during February, donuts made in

In the past three years, five previous elections for bonds and state loans failed to carry, although the three elections held in 1964 came close to winning.

Necessary to pass the measure is a two-thirds majority.

The school, according to reports, will be built somewhere in the approximate area of Sedco Hills, near the new hospital site.

Maybe, the class of 1967, will be the first to receive their diplomas from this new Elsinore Union High School.

BAPTIST'S INSTALL NEW MINISTER

Rev. L. E. Campbell was installed as pastor of the Lake Providence Baptist Church on Sunday January 24, by the Rev. L. B. Moss, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church of Riverside.

Rev Campbell is a native Californian, having been born in Los Angeles, he lived in Elsinore for the past ten years. He is a graduate of Jefferson High School, Los Angeles and is in his third year at the Riverside Theological Baptist Extension Seminary.

Ollie, Rev. Campbell's wife attends the school with him, taking classes that will help her in her work as a Sunday school teacher.

Welcome To My World

Ronda Ann Milts

The editor of La Laguna Revue is proud to announce that she is an aunt, and tickled pink over the idea (once more).

This little lady was welcomed into the world on January 27, 1965. She weighed in at 7 pounds 4½ ounces and was 21 inches long. The Riverside Community Hospital had the original pleasure of her company and Dr. Wein-further was given the distinct honor of being her doctor.

Other minor details of the young lass: Parents, Pat and Ron Milts, formerly of Elsinore, now of Riverside. Maternal grandparents, Beulah and Dick Rehrig, now of El Cerrito Hills and Paternal grandmother, Elizabeth Milts of the Sportsman's Lodge.

Famed Lake View Hotel Reopened

Elsinore's famed and most noted hotel on Spring Street has been reopened for hotel business and dining trade by the new owner Elsinore Lake View Corporation.

Managing the hotel for the corporation are Honey and Mel Markham, formerly of Long Beach. This couple and their three children, Sandra, 18; Melvin Bryan, better known as Mike age 15 and Camilla, 13, make their home in one of the hotel's apartments. Honey and Mel will keep the hotel up to date in a modern manner but they intend to preserve the "Gay Nineties" atmosphere that is felt as one walks in the door.

The exterior of this two story structure has a tower, veranda and long glass windows on the sun deck.

The building was built originally around 1885, but nine years later burned to the ground.

Immediately the then owner had the building rebuilt, only on a more elaborate scale and it proved to be the stopping place for many notables. Musicals, dances, banquets and many gala parties were held in this establishment.

In 1907 Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gardner purchased the hotel, but three years later Charles Gardner died and the well-known "Mary Gardner" managed the business as well as the Crescent Bathhouse, a Victorian type structure at the corner of Spring and Graham (one block from the hotel where guests took their mineral water baths). She then purchased a cottonwood grove on the south side of the Lake and built a pier at the end of Spring Street, just below the hotel for her launch. Guests then had the privilege of taking the launch across Lake Elsinore to the other side where cooks and maids served their every need.

The year 1927 saw the sale of the famed hotel. At one time it was turned into a private home and guests were turned away and Elsinore was without a hostel.

About eight months ago, four men, Tim Talbert, Francis Herrera, Frank Nagamatsu all of Huntington Beach and Frank Knoy of Costa Mesa, who comprise the Elsinore Lake View Corporation, purchased the building for approximately $125,000 and have been seeing to its needs since.

The spacious dining room is operated restaurant style and service begins at 6 a.m. for the breakfast trade. The banquet room has already seen its share of parties for it was there that the Elsinore Lions Club held its annual New Year's Eve party; the City of Hope Chapter of Elsinore had its annual Snow Ball dance and even the students at the Elsinore Union High School enjoyed the facilities of this huge establishment when they held the Junior-Senior Prom at the Lake View.

Elsinore is quite a historical town and the hotel is still one of the best reminders of "the good old days". It is the type of place where you go to dine and enjoy the high polish of the hardwood floor, the tapestry, the comfortable overstuffed furniture in the lobby, the rail "for dog's only", so your pet can be assured of safety, the long flight of stairs to the second floor and in general where you feel—"at home, years ago".

At the United Church of Sun City

Twenty-five voices blend in harmony every Sunday morning at the United Church of Sun City, when that church's choir, under the direction of Frank Van Gundy, gives forth with the chosen hymns.

The church was organized February 24, 1963 with ninety-two charter members and now, two short years later it has a roster of over 500. It is located on Grand Avenue between Sun City Boulevard and Winged Foot Drive.

It was on November 29,

1964, that the first service was held in the new church building, with Dr. Willis E. Smith officiating. Dr. Smith has been the active head of the group since the organizing of the church.

The first building being occupied at this time is the Fellowship Hall which also serves as a Sanctuary.

Overall plans include construction of a permanent and much larger Sanctuary on Grand Avenue, a prayer garden with a mural of Christ to welcome children and other improvements when growth of the church and expansion of its religious activities warrant, according to the pastor.

Present seating capacity is provided for 400 persons, plus an additional fifty seats in the narthex.

Luke Hoffman, a member of the church made the beautiful pulpit, lecturn, cross and communion table.

Also contributing materially were the members of the Board of Trustees, Church Council, Deacons, Deaconesses, Women's and Men's Fellowship.

La Laguna Revue Presents... Home of Dorothy and

The interview complete, photos taken, Dorothy and John were relaxing in the dining area with a cup of coffee when this photo was taken. Against the wall is a large divan and to John's left are the wall to floor, plate glass doors that lead to the patio.

John Edwards, Between Wildomar and Elsinore

Dorothy and John Edwards, well-known residents of Elsinore are the most content people in the Valley in their new home on Canyon Drive, and among the most gracious.

This house built for them by the Architectural Division of Rohr Corporation is one of the most modern in construction and appliances. The fireplace is of driftwood, the entrance hall of black slate flooring and the glass in the front door is amber bottle glass. All of the walls are of an easy-to-care-for vinyl that require little, if any maintenance.

The exterior of the house is apricot in color with a cream color trim.

As you enter the front door, which is inset, you enter a large foyer with the forementioned black slate flooring. Directly in front of you is the dining area with its round white table and padded chairs in the same designed material as the large couch that graces the one wall.

To the right of the foyer is the large living room, with its avacado color carpeting and divans of gold colored covering, and avacado colored easy-chairs.

The all-electric kitchen was designed for the modern woman, with everything in easy reach of the cook.

A breakfast counter with three captain type stools is the divider between the cooking and dining area. One of the most useful, but seldom seen items that has been incorporated in this home is a desk, work area where the lady of the house can sit down, write grocery lists or check through cook-books without any problem.

The hallways that lead to the bedrooms and baths are carpeted the same as the living room.

The first doorway on the left is furnished as a den-office for John and here he can do all of the work necessary for the various organizations he is affiliated with. (This is bedroom three on the featured floor plan).

Across the hall from this (bedroom four) is the guest room, with carpeting of orchid color. The entire room borders on the orchid tones.

Mrs. Edward's room (bedroom two) has white carpeting and the coverlets on the twin beds are a vivid blue, with the furniture white antique with gold trim.

The master bedroom is carpeted in the avacado color and in this room is a king-size bed covered with a double wove bedspread of fuchsia color and at the headboard, large pillows of the same color. Each side of this spread, which was hand loomed in Italy, is of a different design and by turning it over, gives the appearance of an entirely different bedspread. The triple dresser, headboard and nightstands are of distressed walnut.

The lavish baths each have its own carpeted dressing area, pullman sinks with plenty of room for toilet articles and enclosed linen closets, from floor to ceiling.

Mrs. Edwards, who did the interior decorating in its entirety, shopped for thousands of miles and in hundreds of stores for each and every article that is presently in the home.

What began as a garage in the original plans, was converted into a large room for games, parties and when the family gathers for dinner and fun.

The Edwards came to Elsinore from Los Angeles, where John had a brake shop on Vermont Avenue, the third oldest in Los Angeles, in fact.

It was over twenty years

The table in front of Dorothy is 30 x 72 inches and is beautifully designed with gold leaf under the plate glass. The pictures that go on the wall behind the large divan had not yet been shipped when this photo was taken, much to Dorothy's dismay, for the way she described them tells us they will be something "just a little bit special".

November Wedding for Dettamanti and Watkins

Father Andrew McGrath officiated at the double ring ceremony which united Miss Elizabeth Ann Dettamanti and John Leroy Watkins Sunday afternoon, November 23, in La Purissima Catholic Church. The hour was 2:30 o'clock. Flanking the altar were pedestals of white chrysanthemums, gladioli, tied with bows of orchid and white.

Matching baskets of flowers stood at the church entrance, at either side of the white aisle carpet. Honor pews were marked by fans of feathers and orchid colored flowers with orchid streamers.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Henry J. Dettamanti. Mrs. John (Loretta) Hannah was the organist and Mrs. Paul (Lena) Pasquini, the soloist for the "Ava Maria." As the bride placed the spiritual bouquet on the Sacred Heart, Mrs. Pasquini sang "Santesemo."

An Alfred Angelo original, the chapel length wedding gown of silk-faced faille, was styled with long sleeves, bateau neckline, a fitted waistline accented with bead and crystal design, and a controlled bell skirt with soft unpressed pleats which fell into gentle folds. A queen's crown of lace and crystal held the bouffant veil accented with lace motifs. For her 'something new,' the bride wore a strand of pearls the gift of her bridegroom. Her 'something borrowed' were earrings belonging to her cousin, Mrs. Walter (Lorraine) Ploch. She carried a floral cross of white stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Dale (Jeanette) Lowe of Santa Maria. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ploch, the Misses Diane Simons and Diane Oldziewski, and Miss Lynda Moses of Oxnard.

Their long matching gowns of pale lavender sata peau were styled with cap sleeves and draped cummerbund effect with two floating panels accented at the back waist by self-material roses. Matching the roses on their gowns, were the lilac shaded hoops which held their back floating veils. The bouquets were of orchid spider mums arranged with croton foliage.

Frank Watkins severed his brother as best man. Ushers were Jerry Scolari, Marvin Velasquez, Benny Dettamanti, brother of the bride; and Norman Rudder of Morro Bay, Door ushers were Ronald Sloan and Marvin Aimas.

Peggy Jones of Murrieta, cousin of the bridegroom and Denise Antolini of Sequoia, cousin of the bride, were flower girls. Ring bearers were Michele Grossi, godchild of the bride, and Peter Cargassachi, close friend of the bridal couple.

The flower girls wore floor length gowns of white eyelet with wide orchid satin sashes, and headpieces of small lavender flowers. They carried white baskets of orchid chrysanthemums.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dettamanti wore an off-white dress and jacket ensemble metallic trimmed, with accessories to match. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. John L. Watkins, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pink lace dress with black accessories and cymbidium corsage.

The newlywed couple greeted guests at a reception in Elks Lodge Hall following the wedding ceremony. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and orchid gladioli decorated the rooms. Vases held orchid carnations and white chrysanthemums, and a similar arrangement centered the bridal table.

Forming the background for the five tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom, were two large hearts edged in orchid net and inscribed in gold with the names "Liz and John." The arrangement was made by Susan Watkins, sister-in-law of the bridegroom and cousin of the bride.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Jim Watkins of Atascadero, aunt of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Henry Antolinn of Santa Maria, cousin of the bride. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Willard Grossi, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Leo Dettamanti of Santa Maria, her cousin; and Mrs. Waldo Grossi of Santa Ynez, an aunt.

Preparing and serving the punch for toasting the newlyweds, were uncles and aunts of the bride: Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Manfrina, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fairbanks and Waldo Grossi of Santa Ynez.

Pouring coffee and tea were Mrs. Charles Trout of Ventura, aunt of the bride; and Mrs. Ernest Beswick, cousin of the bride.

Attending the guest book was Sandra Dryer of Santa Barbara, cousin of the bride.

In charge of the gift table were Donica Ostini, cousin of the bride, and Patty Rivaldi, close friend of the bridal couple.

Miss Ostini caught the bride's bouquet and Marvin Velasquez, the garter.

An Italian tradition, was the presentation of almonds wrapped in net to each of the guests. Attached to the souvenirs were hearts inscribed "Liz and John."

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a light maroon colored dress with matching accessories and a soft pink mohair coat. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Literacy Center Party

The doors of the spacious club rooms of the Elsinore Woman's Club were thrown open for the fourth consecutive year to the members of the Literacy Center students, their families and friends to their annual Christmas Party.

Some 70 people gathered to enjoy an evening of fun and good fellowship with an exchange of cultural Christmas customs.

The first part of the evening featured a program of group singing of Christmas carols with Miss Adeline Sanchez at the piano. She also accompanied her brother Billy in a vocal solo "The Christmas Song". Short talks interpreting such traditions as the Posadas and the Pinata were given by Cristobal and Alezandra Ruvalcaba and Ramon' and Luisa Rodriguez, students in Mrs. Irene McDowell's English class.

The next phase of the evening was the participation in folk games under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mixer in which young and old joined hands in the circular folk games under the able direction of these professional teachers. Then came the breaking of the pinata. A papier mache figure in the form of Santa Claus was filled with candy and nuts. The children took turns in trying to break the pinata with a long stick while blindfolded. Eventually they were successful and there was a mad scramble for the items that fell from the pinata.

The final feature was the refreshment part of the program where cookies, candy, nuts, punch and coffee were served by the literacy teachers from tables appropriately decorated.

Mrs. Ruth Venable, President of the Elsinore Literacy Council, presided during the evening ably assisted by the following teachers: Mrs. Irene McDowell, President of the Woman's Club; Mrs. Betty Hindman, Corresponding Secretary, Gertrude Flyte, International Affairs Chairman, Mrs. Mary Moses, Jeannete Tontz, Grace Price, Doris Dolphin, Wyoma Neff, and Florence Richards.

Fred and Jan, the Party Pacers

Every town has its favorites in the music world, and Elsinore has Fred and Jan Vitagliano, the "Party Pacers", who'll play for you all day and all night, if that is what you desire.

Fred is a demon on the drums and belts forth with songs, either the kind that mother used to sing, or the kids of today do their gyrations to. As long as it's music and has a beat, Fred will see to it that you hear it.

Fred and Jan played at the Elsinore Recreation Center on Graham Avenue and he was with Bill Strickland's Cyclones "on the road" for two years.

But Jan, she's a story alone. This pert blonde, with the trim figure, was a housewife with one seven year old child and having a husband that played the drums, mostly nights, and most of all weekends, didn't really appeal to this young lady, and especially at this time, for Jan, three years ago was expecting their second child.

Finding time heavy on her hands, and she having to sit a goodly portion of the day, Jan decided that she would learn to play the piano. She bought a learner's music book and daily would sit at the piano and study and practice. The young lady was born, but by now Jan could play the piano, and she wanted to be with Fred.

So gradually the two worked out a few routine songs and Jan would sit in on a couple of numbers during the time Fred was working. It is now three years later and Jan is working every night with Fred and happier than ever, for she no longer picks songs out a note at a time, but puts all ten fingers on the keyboard and takes off in song.

Fred and Jan Vitagliano, not only ready for work but working, for when these two sit anywhere near a piano and a set of drums, they automatically begin playing

Fred is originally from Ohio, he was in the United States Navy from 1943 until 1946, serving those three years in the South Pacific. In 1949 he joined the Army and spent five years stationed in Germany. He met Jan, at the time a dress shop owner, in Miami and it was there in 1954 that he married her.

If you want to enjoy a night out and good music also, go to Guenther's Murieta Hot Springs any Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday or Magnolia Lanes, the other four nights and listen to the music of Fred and Jan, the "Party Pacers".

GOODBYE ROGER, HELLO BILL

William L. (Bill) Stewart newly elected president of the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce and Roger L. Mayhall, outgoing president were both greatly honored late December at the annual installation dinner and dance when almost two hundred people joined them in the installation ceremonies.

The affair was held at the Veteran's Memorial Building and dignitaries from the entire valleys were present.

Outgoing President Roger Mayhall opened the evening's program with words of deep appreciation for the cooperation he had received during his term of office. He then introduced Galal

Gough, president of the First National Bank of Elsinore and master of ceremonies for the installation

Rev. Douglas Horton of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church gave the invocation and Clint Joseph, president of the Board of Realtors led the salute to the Flag.

Then Mr. Gough introduced Florende Richards, secretary of the Chamber and the then Miss Elsinore, Lo Vae Pray. Florence presented Lo Vae a plaque from the chamber for appreciation for all she has done to boost Elsinore Valley and the Chamber.

Harry Creasy of the Riverside Board of Trade was called on to install the newly elected officers to their positions on the chamber board. Mr. Creasy in a few short minutes proved to the audience why he was frequently called upon to act as installing officer, for he kept the entire audience spellbound with his repertoire of stories. It then became time for this great orator to install the officers for the 1965 term of office and just as serious as he had been humourous, this man impressed the responsibilities of their office on Dr. Harry Breuer, vice-president. Jerry Harmatz, treasurer, Florence Richards Larry Cartier, Arthur Gedtmann, Gordon Harrison, James Magill, Robert McGill, Joe Seitz and Harlon Gilbertson. He then installed President Bill Stewart.

Mr. Gough then introduced John Milton Kennedy well-known radio and television personality.

He is presently hosting "Science in Action" television series sponsored by Southern California Edison Company. His talk was on the "Learning Gap" and he pointed out the fact that students in our schools were not receiving a course in

Elsinore Realtors Dinner

The January 12, Lake Elsinore Valley Board of Realtors Installation saw over one hundred and sixty guests gather at the Lake View Hotel on Spring Street to see the impressive ceremonies as eight officers and directors were sworn into their offices.

President, Clint Joseph, gave the welcome and introduced the notable guests as well as the Master of Ceremonies for the evening, Galal Gough. Father Jalbert of the Alberhill Catholic Church gave the invocation and Colonel Fredrick R. Stimus of the Elsinore Naval and Military School led the audience in the flag salute.

Following the steak dinner, Major General Robert Everton Cushman Jr.,

Commanding General of the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base spoke on "Counterinsurgency - Guerrilla Warfare", and pointed out many of the little-known facts concerning the situation in Viet Nam, and other nations with the same difficulties and handicaps to self - government.

Rae Edgar, Regional Vice-President of the California Real Estate Association, 14th District, presided over the installation of officers. The Lake Elsinore Valley Board of Realtors is once again headed by Clint Joseph, President; D. "Bob" Endreson, Vice-President; and Florence I. Richards, Secretary - Treasurer. The Board of Directors consists of: Willie Joy, Fani Lucas, Jerry Barnes, C. H. "Boom-

The awards of "Realtor of The Year" and "Salesman of The Year" went to Stormy Allen Keats, and Chamber of Commerce President, William L. Stewart. The presentations were made by Tom Brusca of the First American Title Company of Riverside. Armand Bruno of the Title Insurance and Trust Company presented the Past Presidents plaque to Clint Joseph who then awarded the Community Service Award to Clarence "Mac" McLaughlin, for his many contributions to the Valley.

The lovely tea service door prize provided by the Security Title Insurance Company went to Corrinne "Kappy" Kapp.

By GAREY CARR
THE TALE OF TWO KINGS

They called him Scotty and he was said to be one of the best poker players in the state of Utah, so I was told, and I was warned not to tangle with him.

The action was centered in a hotel room in Salt Lake City back in 1907 but the details are as clear today as though it happened yesterday.

Salt Lake City in those days was a closed town on Sundays with no place to go if you were a stranger in town. Picture shows pool rooms - every form of amusement were closed.

For some weeks a small group of fellows had gotten together on Saturday nights in a hotel room to play penny ante just to while away the time until the early morning hours Sunday. Then to the Sulpher Springs for a bath and rub down and home to bed to sleep through the day. It was a sociable game and seldom cost anyone more than five dollars for the night's entertainment.

However, on this night, there was a stranger in the group. I never learned who had invited him but one of the men had given me the tip and warning.

I was 19 at the time and a very inexperienced poker player and certainly would be no match for one of the top players in Utah. I was not unduly worried as I was willing to lose four or five dollars in the game and if Scotty was such a great player I might just as well lose it to him as anyone.

We played a seven hand game with jacks or better, to open. We would all put in a dime in the jackpot and the action was limited to a 25c bet.

As the hours passed on this particular night it was quite evident that Scotty's reputation was well earned. By midnight the chips were about equally divided between Scotty and myself. He had earned his by shrewd playing. Mine were gained by pure luck.

I had a good opportunity to study Scotty during the night. It didn't seem to me he did much bluffing, although there was no way of knowing unless he was called, but in those rare instances he always held the winning cards.

About two a. m. Scotty suggested we change the rules of the game to table stakes with no limit. The plan seemed agreeable to the other five players who were anxious for an opportunity to get even. As for myself I had no objection. We had all started out with $10 in chips while the others had bought more from time to time, neither Scotty or myself had made any additional purchases and both of us were substantial winners at the time.

By five a. m. my luck had continued and Scotty's experienced playing had resulted in he and I still having most of the chips and just about equally divided. The other five members of the group were big losers. It was near breaking up time and then it happened!

Scotty was sitting to the right of the dealer. I was to the dealers left "under the gun", as the professionals say. By this time the game had developed into a man's game. No longer did we put a dime in the jackpot. For the past hour or more the cost to get into the pot had been $5 and the opening had been averaging about an equal amount.

With an abundant supply of chips before me I had been dealt two kings and being already in the pot for five dollars I opened it for another five. The next four men joined me. Then it was up to Scotty and he put in five dollars and raised it ten. The dealer threw in his hand. It was then up to me. I hesitated for a moment and then decided to go for another ten dollars considering my great wealth at the time. I might help my two kings, and anyhow, the game was nearing its end.

I drew three cards. The next four players had thrown in their cards following the ten dollar raise so now it was up to Scotty. "I'll play these" said Scotty.

It was my move. I hadn't helped my two kings and I wasn't about to bet against a pat hand. I checked it to the pat hand. I figured Scotty would bet another ten dollars and I was ready to throw in my hand as soon as he made the bet. I'd show my openers and the game would be over.

Instead of a ten dollar bet Scotty pushed all the chips he had in front of him to the center of the

They Jumped Into Marriage

This is the finale to a romance that began less than one year ago between the lovely Sidsel Haugsoen and Roy Allen Fryman, both of the Los Angeles County area.

It all started when the athletic minded girl, originally from Norway, decided that being an expert in the winter skiing field wasn't enough, she wanted to learn to parachute jump. So she went to Skylark Field on Corydon Road in Elsinore, and signed for a series of jump lessons.

Roy, being an expert jumper, and having over 1000 jumps to his credit, was elected to be her instructor. During Sidsel's training period, these two young people realized that they had more in common than just parachuting, so on January 9, they went to the First Baptist Church on Grand Avenue and in the presence of hundreds of their friends from Skylark, members of the Norwegian and Swedish Winter Ski Club, family and friends, these two were united in holy matrimony by the Rev. Daniel Wagner, pastor of the church.

For her wedding the bride wore a Lilli original, floor length, white satin gown with a chapel train, full length sleeves, scooped neckline and lace inset in the front from the waist to the floor. Her elbow length veil was held in place by a crown headpiece. The bridal bouquet was of red baby rose buds.

Both of the bride's attendants were attired in

Stand Off

Stand Off, in the southern part of Canada's Province of Alberta, isn't much of a town. Its one and only business building is a small general store and post office. A few small dwellings, homes of Indians of the Blood Tribe, form a background for the store. But lurking always in the shadow of the store and the houses made diminutive by the vast expanse of prairies, there is a true tale of western lore.

It was in 1870 that a party of ambitious adventurers left the settlements along the Missouri River. They planned to trade with the Blood Indians, a branch of the Blackfoot Nation, offering whiskey for pelts.

The Bloods were noted for their warlike proclivities. On their raids they ventured sometimes as far south as Mexico, crossing the immigrant trails that led into the Rockies on the long route to California and Oregon. It was best that the Bloods had no liquor.

The party of whiskey traders was overtaken near the then vaguely defined international boundary just east of today's Glacier National Park by Montana Territory Sheriff Charles Hard. The traders, claiming to be in Canada, threatened to kill the sheriff. Because the border had not been surveyed and he was not sure of his ground, he rode off and left them. So the trading post was established, safely within Canada, and gloating over their success in standing off Sheriff Hard the adventurers named it Stand Off.

Four years later, in 1874, 150 red-coated Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen, the first to enter western Canada, made a 1000-mile trek from the east and established Fort Macleod on the open prairie nearby. And that spelled the end of Stand Off's whiskey traffic.

By 1880 the great herds of buffalo, upon which the Blood Indians had depended as the main source of their livelihood, had dwindled away under the white man's senseless program of slaughter. There was no longer incentive for the Bloods to roam.

Today, on Canada's largest Indian reservation which surrounds Stand Off's post office, the Bloods live in neatly painted houses and harvest huge crops of wheat with the white man's latest inventions.

But while the giant combines whirl and rattle at harvest time, the soft prairie breezes still blow and the jagged peaks of the distant Rockies still flaunt their eternal challenge to white men and red men alike.

table. As near as I could judge there were something over One Hundred Dollars in his pile and it looked like I had an equal amount in front of me.

His action was such a surprise that it started me to thinking. Scotty was a man somewhere along in his sixties. He was a professional poker player. I was a teenager with little experience in poker playing. Wouldn't it be logical to assume that he would reason a boy with over One Hundred Dollars in winnings would not be likely to risk it all to call a pat hand? The more I thought about it the more I could see the probable play from his standpoint.

I hadn't bought any more chips since my original investment of Ten Dollars so that was all I could possibly lose for the night's entertainment.

Without further ado I pushed my chips to the center of the table and started matching them up with his. I had called the pat hand. As I stacked them up it was obvious I had a few more chips than he had. He didn't wait to count the chips. Scotty had stood pat on a pair of sixes. He had left the room before I finished counting the chips. The pot was worth Three Hundred Ten Dollars!

There must be a moral to this story somewhere along the line. Maybe this is it; If you are an experienced poker player never try to bluff an inexperienced 19-year-old-boy who hasn't any better sense than to call a pat hand with a pair of kings.

Let's Give It Another Try

Everybody makes mistakes. Why else do millions of pencils come off the assembly line with erasers on them?

In the December issue of the Revue, in the story of the Art Show held in Elsinore, we wrote" . . . and second went to Helen Goodwin for her minifures of glitter paint on a Spanish dancer. This was wrong.

She was awarded two special award ribbons on her entries. One a large 22 x 24 oil painting of a Spanish dancer trimmed in glitter and the other a wooden plaque of a stage coach robbery done in miniature figurines.

We really goofed in the January issue.

In the story on Alice Carr elected president of the Hemet Woman's Club we printed, "lady with the gravel" and "alone with her ability to wield the gravel".

Our proofreader suffers a problem - - a frustrated "ditch digger" and doesn't know the difference in a gavel and gravel.

We ask your pardon for our mistakes.

The following poem was written by Aileen House in honor of Mrs. Garey W. Carr and it was read at a meeting of the Literature Section of the club and expresses our feeling of Alice as well as those of Aileen.

To Our President

Only a rose - a single flower,
It seems so little to bring,
But hidden within its crimson folds
Is friendship - a lovely thing.
The velvet bud is tightly closed,
Like the year ahead - unknown;
Bit by bit it will be released
And the petals like days will be shown.

May this simple flower - a perfect rose

Symbolize your well laid plans;
And when each one like the petals unfolds

May it prove as perfect as those.
And when the curtain falls on your year,

And your club duties cease for the day,

May we be happy to hear you say
That our loyalty helped you - along the way.

This poem was written by Aileen House in honor of Mrs. Garey W. Carr.

red velvet full-length gowns and carried white rose buds.

Since the way the couple met was a bit unusual, the fact that the lovely bride, according to her native custom, had the gold wedding band placed on the ring finger of her right hand and in the church itself, she had made arrangements for the Flag of Norway to be brought from the Norwegian Seaman's Church in Downey, and it was placed to the right of the lectern and the American Flag in its customary place. As it worked out the lovely bride and the flag of her native land were on one side and Roy and the Flag of our country on the other.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Sedco District Clubhouse where over 150 people enjoyed a complete dinner, with chicken, ham and turkey for the meat courses. The wedding cake was baked and decorated for the occasion by Jean Harrison of Elsinore, and the reception was hosted by Mrs. Kathleen Perkins.

Sidse, by herself, is an interesting person, having toured a goodly portion of the world and presently working as a secretary in the Downey area. Roy is also employed in that area, but the two of them are known to a number of Valley residents, for they have spent many a weekend at the field.

Who knows, maybe Mr. and Mrs. Fryman, presently of Downey, may become Mr. and Mrs. Fryman of Elsinore?

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Perris Couple

Miss Trudy Lynn Kieschnick, the lovely daughter of Mrs. Ewald Kieschnick of Perris, became the bride of Edward Arthur Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Flint, also of Perris, on December 26, in the First Congregational Church in the presence of over 150 relatives and friends.

The Rev. Malcolm White, pastor of the church, performed the wedding ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her twin brother, Travis.

For her wedding, Trudy wore a floor-length gown of alencon lace designed with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The back of the skirt was caught up in a bustle effect. Her elbow length veil was banded with matching alencon lace and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley.

She wore an heirloom diamond, heart-shaped necklace, gift from the bridegroom's mother.

Serving as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Ray Smaw, attired in a floor-length gown of burgundy rose crepe and chiffon with matching headpiece. She carried a colonial nosegay of white and pink roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Judy Moss, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and Miss Martha Kieschnick, sister of the bride served as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were like that of the matron of honor.

girl and she wore a pink, floor-length gown.

Best man for the occasion was Robert Moss and ushers were Ray Smaw and Danny Farrell.

Soloist, William Rose of Hemet sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Helen Foss of Perris. The church was decorated with large baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladiolus and stock for the afternoon ceremony.

A reception was held in the Pilgrim Hall of the church with Miss Lenore Elliott, Mrs. Fred Anderson and Mrs. Walter Milliken in charge of the refreshment table and Miss Loysann Golding in charge of the guest book.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Flint wore a double knit, seafoam green suit with beige accessories and the bride's mother was attired in a silk knit dress of royal blue with matching accessories. Each wore a white rosebud corsage.

Trudy is completing her senior year at Perris Union High School and Edward is employed by the California Water and Telephone Company.

The newlyweds are now at home to their friends at 1135 "A" Street in Perris.

Mrs J. B. Atkisson Guest Speaker

An honored guest of the Elsinore Woman's Club at their January meeting and speaking at the program which featured public education was Mrs. J. B. Atkisson of Pasadena who is presently serving as the State Chairman of Public Education for the California Federation of Woman's Clubs. She carries the additional honor of serving as the General Federation Chairman of Land and Water, and in this capacity, she is especially interested in the Job Corps Camps being set up over the nation of which five will be in California including the Los Pinos Job Corps Center near Elsinore.

Following Clifford M. Stevens, District Ranger from the Santa Ana Office of the Forest Service of Cleveland National Forest, Mrs. Atkisson felt she had gained a great wealth of information from Mr. Stevens's talk since he showed maps, charts, and pictures explaining in detail the relationship of the Forest Service to the Job Corps Camp. He enumerated the economic advantages of the camp adjacent to Elsinore and pointed out ways in which the Woman's Club might in various social, recreational, and educational ways.

Mrs. Atkisson opened her talk by stating that in her capacity as General Chairman of Land and Water, she had met with Pat Healy of the Washington office of the Job Corps program and Clint Davis of the Forestry Service, also of Washington, in which both asked for the cooperation of the Woman's Clubs of the nation. She stated that the General Federation felt it well within their policy of conversation, not only of land and water but of youth.

Mrs. Atkisson further spoke of the California Federation's emphasis through the State President, Mrs. Edwin Bryant, of Corona on the present dropout problem. She stated that while California provides her students with some of the best schools in the nation, one fourth of those now in high school will drop out before they graduate.

She called attention to a brochure she had released to district education chairmen which enumerates ways in which club women may assist. She paid high tribute to the work of the Elsinore Club in sponsoring a Literacy Project for the past four years since the average drop-out is at least two years retarded in reading and language ability when he leaves school. Many club women are serving as tutors to potential dropouts to assist them in becoming better readers. Elsinore Literacy Center has five young people enrolled in basic reading classes.

Mrs. Atkisson is well equipped for leadership in this important area of community life. She is a graduate of Whittier College where she received her elementary and secondary teaching credential. In addition to her duties named above, she is a member of the California Education Study Council. She served the California Federation as State Chairman of Conservation for four years. She serves as president of her own local club. Mrs. Atkisson is the recipient of an honor award from the California Conservation Council and is a torch bearer in Federation's Epsilon Sigma Omicron.

Of Mr. Steven's Mrs. Flyte stated that as the representative of the Forest service, Club women could feel that not only their trees but the youth in the Job Camp were in good hands.

An exhibit of teaching materials in beginning reading and resources on the current dropout problem was arranged by Mrs. Walter Gregory Elsinore's Woman's Club Public Education Chairman and Mrs. Essie Prouse, Director of the Literacy Center.

Letter to the Boss from our Gal Friday

Editors Note: La Laguna Revue is proud as punch to add a new name to the masthead under the title of reporter . . . Lo Vae Pray.

This charming young lady needs no introduction to you readers, as she was "Miss Elsinore" during 1964 and received a goodly amount of publicity from the Revue on the excellent representation she was giving the Valley.

Lo Vae's stories will appear throughout the magazine beginning with this issue.

Remember that this is "Honor Robinson Crusoe Week, Get your work done by Friday". May I introduce you to "Our Gal Friday, Lo Vae Pray".

Dear Boss:

But for a quirk of fate, a large part of the City of Memphis, Tennessee would now be owned by one of Perris's newest residents, Mrs. Irene Mattox, recently retired Imperial County Auditor. - - (But more of this Memphis Biz later).

Fortunately for us, Boss, Irene Mattox, who has been one of my mother's closest friends for over 27 years, chose Riverside County as her home, when it came time to voluntarily pass along her arduous duties to someone else. She'll make her permanent residence somewhere in Elsinore or Perris Valley, and both communities will benefit.

She really isn't a newcomer, you know, as she has been vacationing and "week-ending" in Elsinore for the past six years - - - has an apartment at the Perris Valley Inn and has been attending social functions here for some time, so she already has a wide circle of friends. Too, (like you) she was also one of this reporter's 23 queen mothers during my reign as "Miss Elsinore of 1964". She took me many places and helped to fend off the would-be wolves and mashers and was matron of honor at my wedding.

Assuming the position of Imperial County Auditor at El Centro in November of 1943 from the retiring W. D. Garey, Irene was a candidate for the position every four years unopposed and was reelected. This speaks well for this remarkable woman who held one of any county's highest offices.

An organizer and charter member of the San Dunes Toastmistress Club, of El Centro Soroptomist Club, the County Employees Association, and many others, too numerous to mention, Irene has already spent a lifetime of services to others in many capacities.

Boss, it is known to this reporter that this modest, unassuming woman has financed six young people through a university education, and has aided many more, none of whom are her own, but she takes no credit for having done so. Childless herself, she and her late husband, Jack felt that the best investment they could assume, was the future of deserving young people.

Irene has received many plaudits and awards over the years for her many fine philanthropic endeavors, but one she is most proud of is the "Woman of the Year" award bestowed upon her in 1955 by the El Centro Business and Professional Women's Club. Her selection was made by a committee of leading men in the community, and Boss, Irene was the first and only woman ever to receive this honor. - - - All other recipients were men, named "Man of the Year".

A talented, clever woman, this queen mother of mine writes prose and poetry like you and I write letters - - - has had much of her work published and always turned any remuneration over to charity. She wrote lyrics to the tune of "Peggy O'Neil" for this reporter, which were always sung when we made public appearances for our beloved Lake Elsinore:

"If her name is Queen

LoVae,

She's Miss Elsinore,

A peep into her trophy case

Shows she's very much more.

"She's lovely and gracious, she shares as she goes.

She has brains and beauty, but sweet as a rose,

She's wise but she's humble, tho' just in her teens.

That's why she's a Queen!

--- Irene Mattox, September 1964

But back to this Memphis Six, Boss: - - Irene is the daughter of Nellie Windle, a direct descendent of the famed and fiery John Sevier, the great general of Revolutionary War fame who has been immortalized in history books and even in the Old Glory comic strip series. - - Old Nolicucky Jack" was given a large land grant comprising most of the state of Tennessee by a grateful government when he completed his soldierly duties. He was ago that the Edwards purchased sixteen acres of land elsewhere in the Valley and for a few years commuted to Los Angeles, but in 1947 they moved in to stay.

John was elected to serve on the board of the governor of the state of Franklin (later named Tennessee) and again elected governor of the state of Tennessee. One of 80 heirs, Irene's share includes a huge portion of the city of Memphis, but a fickle government has never paid any of old "Nolicucky Jack's" descendents for the land grab. And thus was Sevier rewarded for his many years of soldiering and his famous twenty days of bitter siege at Fort Lee in what is now Tennessee, in the district they called Washington, - - - the first place ever named for the General of America's Continental Army. - - - "For Congress and George Washington!" roared old "Nolicucky Jack" - - - "We must protect our states from this horde!" - - - speaking of the savage Indian terrorists, the Cherokees. - - - Maybe Irene should put in her claim, huh, Boss?

An ardent and experienced amateur dramatist, Irene hopes to organize a Little Theater Group, now that she has more time to herself. - - - Wantta play Juliet, Boss, or maybe Portia?

Now that you know all about this fabulous gal, say "hello" to her, the next time you see her.

Elsinore Mutual Water Company in 1942, he was one of its directors for three years and served as president during 1963-64. Seven years of his time was spent on the Park Board and he is a member of the Farm Bureau and is chairman of the Rural Health Board for Riverside County. Rock hunting is John's hobby, but getting a new home in order is taking so much of his time, he has had to neglect this for the time being.

Dorothy, an active member of the Republican Woman's Club, is a member of the Elsinore Woman's Club and did her stint in the Parent-Teacher Organization and scouts, when the children were young.

She is talented in the ceramic field having made lamps, taking stone and rock and encasing them in plastic to be used as trivets, table top decorations and such as that. John and Dorothy are the parents of two, John Arnold, who is a warrant officer stationed at and his wife, the former Carol Wagner of Elsinore Ft. Benning, Georgia. He had been residents of Germany, where John was then stationed and the Edwards senior, took this opportunity to tour that part of our great country. They spent three and one-half months in Germany, Holland and sightseeing in other countries.

Their daughter, Shirley, is now Mrs. Larry Hudson of Covina. Larry is a vice president of a meat packing company in the Los Angeles area.

Our visit to the Edwards' home was a pleasure and we sincerely hope all of you readers enjoy meeting them also—with the help of the Revue.

Mrs. Leland (June) Scott, "Queen Mother" to the lovely Perris Valley queens, is shown with the newest member of her "Royal Family", the statuesque, Barbara White, "Miss Perris Valley of 1965"

Her Majesty Barbara White, is being crowned by her predecessor, Arleen Hammerschmidt, "Miss Perris Valley of 1964".

Barbara White Miss Perris 1965

Twenty four hours before she was named "Miss Perris Valley of 1965", 19 year old Barbara White was visiting in the Sunflower state of Kansas and almost missed the chance to represent her community in the Queen Scheherazade Beauty Pageant at the Indio National Date Festival.

Daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Malcom White of Perris, Perris Valley's new queen has a background of world travel, having been born in China, during which time her father was doing missionary work. A student at San Diego State College, Miss White is majoring in Journalism and plans to pursue a career in this field.

The tall (5' 9"), statuesque, honey blond, brown-eyed beauty received her crown from Miss Arleen Hammerschmidt, "Miss Perris Valley of 1964" at a ceremony held in the Perris Valley Inn on December 30. The affair was hosted and emceed by Richard Randolph of Perris, and the musical interludes were presented by Leland Scott and Gene Roberson of Capistrano Beach. Other participants in the Beauty Pageant were: Linda Lauda, Juanita Bates, Karen Pree and Peggy Mors.

The Perris Valley Chamber of Commerce, with Marvin Funk as President will sponsor the new queen and will present her with a new $150.00 wardrobe and other gifts.

Mrs. Leland (June) Scott, Queen Mother, will serve as chaperone and accompany the new Miss Perris Valley while fulfilling her official duties for the coming year. This is Mrs. Scott's third year as Queen Mother to the Perris lovelies and says she enjoys every minute of her duties. (but then, who wouldn't with such a glamorous position?).

The regal beauty faces a full and rich year of fantasy-land-type living.

11. The base comprises 8800 acres and has 1100 buildings

He also discussed, briefly the new hospital facilities being constructed on base.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be Thursday, February 4, in the Crown Room. Members are urged to attend their chamber . . . for the Chamber is You!

Artist Theresa Bochard Sits for Portrait

Elsinore's Theresa Bochard is having her portrait painted by John Stevenson, and when complete it will hang on her studio wall, along with the painting of her daughter, Claresa Clark of Whitter, and her aunt, Willie McClelland, one-time socialite of Los Angeles.

The painting of Claresa was done by Mr. Stevenson and it took top honors at the Hemet Fair in 1963. He taught at the Chicago Art institute for a short time and is known in the commercial art circles.

Miss McClelland's portrait was painted by Christian Von Schneidan, world renowned painter of Royalty as well as movie stars - - Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, Crown Princess of Denmark, Crown Princess of Norway and Mary Pickford, to name a few. He is a member of Who's Who in the Art World, won the John Quincy Adams scholarship of Foreign Travel, Matshot Artist and Chief Portrait Artist for MGM, Twentieth Century and Columbia Studios.

When the three generation portraits are on the wall, Theresa will not only have the family to discuss, but two great artists as well.

BABY TOES

Life was flowing along quite serenely
 when out of a clear blue sky
 I was taken away from my loved ones
 from grief I thought I would die.
 Had not been feeling so well of late,
 Thus I tried to hide.
 Then I was taken down sick one day
 with a terrible pain in my side.
 The Doctor came and shook his head
 as he listened to my chest
 he said, "Your lungs are infected.
 You need a good long rest".
 Two days later I was settled in a white hospital bed.
 It surely wouldn't be long till I'd be well, everyone said.

The days and nights seemed endless

Without my baby dear.
 You see he is only an infant
 Over him I shed many a tear.
 He was blue-eyed and fat and smiling

We called him 'our little red-head'
 His hair that he took from his Daddy

Was a very bright shade of red.
 He wasn't well when he came to us
 But with lots of attention and care
 He soon blossomed out strong and rosy

And of Love he had his share.
 When I awoke each morning
 I'd sit up with a start
 To the sound of baby laughter
 Then out of bed I'd dart.
 I'd sneak up from behind his crib
 And this is what I'd see!

Two little bare feet kicking the air
 Then he'd coo with babyish glee.
 He seemed to sense that someone was near

He'd lie so quiet and listen
 Then I'd say 'boo' and grab his toes
 And his face would fairly glisten.
 These things I re-live at night time

When all is quiet and still
 And God willing again I'll LIVE them
 When I've finally climbed the hill.

Our Book Of Memory

What have you left with us old year
 As you depart that we May keep inscribed forever in
 Our book of memory?
 A bird in flight,
 A sunrise bright,
 A babbling, winding brook.
 The gleam of snow on mountain top,
 A baby's wondering look.
 The smile and hand-clasp of a friend.
 The echo of a voice
 That we shall hear no more on earth.
 A sunset at day's end.
 The page is turned
 On lessons learned
 Some have been difficult it's true
 But if we've learned them, next year brings
 Us lessons that are new.

Today We Honor, Temecula's Freda Knott

The year was 1923 and Missionary Lloyd E. Hansen of Etiwanda Calif., organizer of the Temecula Union School appointed Freda Knott of that town to be superintendent of the Sunday School . . . and today, over forty years later this woman is still serving her beloved community in that capacity.

She has seen the coming and going, in the parishoner field of such men as Lewis Rankin, now a missionary in Peru; Roy R. Perry, who was the school's missionary for twenty-five years until his death on December 6, 1964; Mr. C. Fountain; Rev. John Hull, of Escondido and the present missionary in charge from Escondido, Elwood Robinson, formerly of New Jersey.

Freda recalls when Mr. Perry organized reunions of the Sunday schools in the area and they would meet at the different schools, including several reunions at Temecula.

The building itself has quite a record for it is the first schoolhouse in Temecula and over the years underwent the transition from a school to its present day use, Temecula Union Sunday School, with few modern improvements.

The interior of the building, see photo, has the belfry and any Sunday morning you will hear it toll its call to worship, with Aunt Freda, as she is affectionately known, pulling on the long rope.

Inside you will find the high windows and doors, that were used many years ago when the building was constructed.

Local residents such as Ed Freeman and Ira Rail have given the building a lift with new cement steps and tile flooring.

The 'Old Organ' that was recently been taken to the has recently taken to the home of one of the Knott's relatives. This organ originally came from the John Knott homestead in South Dakota along with the rest of their furnishings when the family "went west, young man." John is the father of Al, Freda's husband. At present in the church is an old piano, but the members of the Sunday School are planning on purchasing a new piano . . . oh, yes, along with being superintendent, Mrs. Knott is pianist.

Looking through the Sunday School records it was discovered that three funerals and three weddings were held from there.

The townspeople of Temecula have shown this charming lady and her husband their appreciation for her efforts in helping others.

For instance, ten years ago, with the assistance of Betty Otto and the entire community, the Truth or Consequence Show was put on with Freda Knott as guest of honor, much to the surprise of this grand lady. It seems for months the town buzzed around, aiding the crew of the program and getting everything in order and Aunt Freda, being her typical self, minded her own business and did not know a thing about it until show time.

At Christmas, 1964, the folks of Temecula surprised the Knotts with an appreciation program and in June of last year, the Revue carried the story of how the entire town turned out to celebrate the Knotts' fiftieth wedding anniversary and as their gift from the people, they received the installation of a telephone with the bill paid in full for one year.

Many other people, we realize, deserve credit for keeping the Sunday School operating, but today, we'll honor just one... Temecula's Freda Knott.

Once a year the Rotarians of the Rotary Club of Elsinore entertain their lovely wives at a dinner meeting entitled "Ladies Night." The 1964 meeting was held at the Veteran's Memorial Building and in the photos on this page we have the Rotarians, their ladies and the guests of the evening - - all too many to identify correctly.

Joe Piscitello Discharged

On January 29, 1963, Joe Piscitello, son of Mrs. Joseph Piscitello, joined the United States Army and was sent to Fort Ord for basic training.

From there he was shipped to Camp Wainwright, Fairbanks Alaska as an S. P. 4 in the Mechanized Unit for two years.

Joe Piscitello

While serving his hitch with Uncle Sam, Joe received a certificate for non-commissioned officer's academy; marksman ship medal and a silver lighter with a gold engraving for being the soldier of the month in the entire post in July of 1964.

He is a graduate of the Elsinore Union High School, class of '59 and now that he is back in Elsinore has once more resumed his position with Albright's and is planning on staying in Elsinore Valley again.

Welcome, home Joe.

REMEMBER THE GOOD OLD DAYS

A recent visit to Elsinore by Dr. C. Harry Pool, now retired and living in Carlsbad, recalls a family prominent in business and fraternal circles some sixty years ago.

Dr. Pool visited the Elsinore Public Library and its librarian, Altha Cauch, and with him he had several of the old school pictures taken when he and Mrs. Cauch were classmates, at Elsinore Union High School. In fact the original class began with ten students and Dr. Pool and Mrs. Cauch were the only ones to graduate from the school in 1909.

He also brought with him his mother's Past Matron's Pin, which had been presented to her by Elsinore Chapter No. 243 O. E. S. - - the first such one given. This pin he presented to Altha, which she is wearing with great pride.

Excerpts from the local paper during the time the Pool family lived in Elsinore read thusly:

"August 26, 1904 - - C. D. Pool has recently bought out S. L. Lauler.

September 16, 1904 advertisement, of C. D. Pool which states that he is a successor to S. L. Lauler. Carries groceries, flour and feed, makes a specialty of outfitting campers, dry-goods, shoes, ladies and gents furnishing goods. Motto: Best Goods at Lowest Prices.

By November 11, the ad states that the fall stock of dry goods is in and the ladies of Elsinore are cordially invited to inspect them.

Also a complete line of mens, ladies, and children's shoes, gents furnishing goods, underwear and hosiery. "We are still improving our grocery stock and believe there is none better this side of Riverside. "City prices prevail on all our goods and quality is guaranteed."

At this time the family lived on West Graham and Kellogg Streets and along with Mr. and Mrs. Pool were three children, Harry, Wyman and Richard.

As a family they were active in various organizations including charter members of the Order of Eastern Star, which Mrs. C. D. (Nellie) headed as the first matron when Elsinore Chapter No. 243 was organized in 1906 and continued as its head until 1907. It was in 1906 that the Woman's Club was organized.

That fall Harry Pool began school as a freshman and when he and Mrs. Cauch graduated, four years later, his theme for the graduation exercises was on the Panama Canal.

The Pool Store, which is presently the corner occupied by Sunny Hills Realty, was the then Masonic Lodge Hall.

It was in the early fall of 1906 that two vacancies occurred on the City Council and these were filled by the appointment of C. S. Merrifield and C. D. Pool. Concerning the latter, the editor of the local paper said: "While having lived here but a little over two years he had identified himself closely with the business affairs of the city, and is a capable man. We have every reason to expect he will be untiring in his efforts to aid and uphold the work of pesenting a good, clean civic life, to surround ing communities."

Early in 1908 Mr. Pool disposed of the grocery department, specializing then in dry goods, etc. This he sold in 1910 to Maurice Herbelin.

During his time in Elsinore he was also a director of the Consolidated Bank and its vice-president and served as a member of the Grammer School Board.

It was in 1910 that he moved to San Jacinto, where he also conducted a mercantile business and built a new home. Nellie passed away in 1939 and C. D. in 1944.

Oh, yes the next time you go by the corner of Main Street and Graham Avenue take a look and remember "The Good Old Days".

Hospital Ready for Stucco Finish

Construction of the Elsinore Community Hospital is right on schedule, according to the builder, Hospital Planning and Engineering Company of Santa Monica.

The exterior of the building is ready for its stucco coat, as shown in the photo above, and the interior is also ready for finishing of the walls and ceiling and installation of the fixtures.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the completely equipped 24-bed medical-surgical hospital were held on October 9 and if all goes according to plan, it will be ready for patients by April.

The new hospital is located between Freeway 71 and Mission Trail on Walnut Street and faces Lake Elsinore. It is less than a fifteen minute drive from Perris and Sun City.

The building will house, along with the 24-acute general hospital beds, one major surgery, an emergency or minor surgery room, laboratory, X-ray room, central sterile, doctor and nurses lounges, employees dining room, kitchen, business office and administration office as well as a pharmacy for in-patients.

Mrs. Eilaine Vogel, Office Secretary

Mrs. Socorro Rodriguez, Secretary to Principal

Lt. Junior Gonzales, Instructor:

Lt. Thomas G. Martin, Instructor:

Sketches of New Personnel

On the first page of the current edition of the ADMIRAL the editorial staff has shown the photos of recent members of the school personnel. Factual data about each provides interesting reading and valuable history to the thirty-one years of progress at our school.

1. Mrs. Eilaine Vogel became a member of the office secretarial staff of the administration offices. Her duties include operation of the switchboard and she serves as receptionist to everyone who calls at the main office. After her graduation of high school she became engaged in the fascinating work of office in private organization. Now, even after her marriage, she has found it interesting to return to these duties and serve the youth, staff, and faculty of the school.

2. Mrs. Socorro Rodriguez is not entirely new to the employment at our school; for, it was in 1958 when she served as secretary in the office of the Principal of the secondary school division. In fact she was the secretary to the present Principal, Major N. B. Sewell, when he assumed his official duties on October 1, 1960. She continued until August 1, 1962, because of her services being more urgently needed at home. Principal N. B. Sewell stated, "I am delighted to welcome the return of Mrs. Rodriguez to the office, effective January 4, 1965."

3. Lt. Junior Gonzales was also employed previously at our school as instructor in Spanish and English. In 1961 he became a member of the United States Armed Forces. Following his assignments to several bases in Europe, he enlisted for an additional year (total of four years) of service to his country and remained in Europe until his recent honorable discharge. The administration was indeed very happy to the return of Lt. Gonzales to the instructional staff of the secondary school division, effective January 4, 1965.

4. The History Department of the school was honored with the arrival of Lt. Thomas G. Martin who is now teaching World History. Lt. Martin was born in Fort Dodge, Iowa. He attended Black Hills Teachers' College in Spearfish, South Dakota, where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in Education which included a major in History and a minor in English. His teaching experiences were in Torrington, Wyoming between 1958 and 1963, and in Oroville, California, where he taught History prior to his coming to our school on January 4, 1965.

Tour of March Air Base

The seventh and eighth graders were invited to take a tour of March Air Force Base. At eight ten A.M. two buses came to transport the students.

Upon arriving at the base the students were first directed to the P. C. U. Physical Conditioning Unit where the cadets exercised with barbells and weights. After that they were taken to the theater to see a special SAC film concerning the B52 and the effects of bombing. Then the cadets were taken in a secret area in which there was an alarm system that could be sounded through out the United States in a matter of seconds. The cadets were taken through a couple of planes which they enjoyed very much.

After the cadets had seen everything there was to see they were taken to the Mess Hall and served a scrumptious meal, so most of them say.

New Cadets Enrolled

Since the new year three new cadets have been enrolled in the Naval and Military School senior school section. Thomas Coman from La Jolla entered the tenth grade, Michael Moore from Las Vegas the seventh grade, and Larry Walker from Colton entered the eleventh grade.

In the middle of January Steve Emery from Anaheim, Reed McManus from Long Beach and Daniel Dereng from Las Vegas entered the tenth, ninth, and eighth grades respectively.

The addition of these six cadets brings the total enrollment of the senior school to 138.

Loss To Moreno

After compiling a 1-1 record, the Cougars lost a chance to score what they expected to be an easy victory against Moreno High School.

At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 16-16, both teams being as evenly matched as the score would indicate. The Cougars then took the lead and held it until the last few seconds of the second quarter, when the Moreno team scored three field goals and four free throws to take a lead of seven points. Moreno's main source of points came from defensive fouls committed by Alan Curtis, Elmer Tilson, and Danny Schoolcraft with four fouls each.

During the third quarter Moreno kept their seven-point lead until the last minute of the quarter when the Cougars came fighting back to take a third quarter lead of 41-40. The Cougars scored 25 points in the third quarter while making their comeback. Elsinore stayed seven points behind Moreno throughout the quarter, never allowing them to score without scoring themselves.

The fourth quarter started off with the Cougars barely in the lead, but it was soon lost. Danny Schoolcraft fouled out of the game and was replaced by Steve Smith. Marshall Carpenter got into the game when Alan Curtis, guard, was tossed out for committing a flagrant foul during an offensive play which could have injured three opposing players. Elmer Tilson and Marshall Carpenter did a good job of holding the Moreno team, but the score was against them and time was running out. The buzzer ended the game with the score 66-48 in favor of Moreno.

The Cougar line-up: Alan Curtis, Elmer Tilson, Steve Smith, Danny Schoolcraft, Arthur McDowell, Marshall

Platoon Competition

As the school year progresses the first tri-mester Platoon competition is almost at an end. At the present time the first platoon has a substantial lead with the second platoon second, followed by the third and fourth Platoons.

The platoon competition is graded by the cleanliness of the cadets dorms and their performance out on the parade field on Sundays. The purpose of this competition is to instill in the cadets a feeling of pride, self accomplishment, and confidence.

The winning platoon will be awarded a 50 hour pass. It is quite evident that the first platoon will win the first competition, but there are still two more competitive periods left in the school.

Happy Valentine's Day

and with this gift you will remember me all year long.

I went into the stores, looked at perfumes and pretty boxes of candy, but nothing I saw would have suited you as a gift for this day of days.

The perfume would be used in no time and I didn't believe candy was good for your figure (in fact Metracal is more like it).

So, I have added your name to the Laguna Revue subscription list and each month for a year, when you open your mailbox you will think of me. .your Valentine.

This magazine won't tell you what women liked about men. .before they invented money; or how to save a fortune by marrying your second wife first or even tell you what to do with your wife, if you meet the girl of your dreams.

It will just get you acquainted with all of the people in the Valley, all of the business houses, suggest where to shop and even where to dine and each month when you see it you will know that you are

My Valentine

SPECIAL: All subscriptions ordered during the month of February and March as a gift to anyone in the service will go under the special California rates: $3.00 for one year, $5.00 for two, regardless of where they are stationed.

1 year $3.00
2 years $5.00
